ARTICLES (by title)

Affective rating of color and black-and-white pictures, William Winn and Richard J. Everett, 27:2 148–156

An analysis of the instructional functions of color and monochrome cuing in media presentations, Alan G. Chute, 27:4 251–263

Communicating education information to Anglo and Hispanic populations, Stephen L. Lauricella and Everett D. Edington, 27:1 54–57

Composition of the TV picture: Some hypotheses to test the forces operating within the television screen, Nikos Metallinos, 27:3 205–214

Detail and background in audiovisual lessons and their effect on learners, Walter R. Borg and Charles F. Schuller, 27:1 31–38

Dynamics of the frame in visual composition, Gerald F. Herbener, G. Norman Van Tubergen, and S. Scott Whitlow, 27:2 83–88

Economic cost analysis in higher education: The University of Mid-America and traditional institutions compared, Herbert Kiesling, 27:1 9–24

Effect of pictures on children's comprehension of written text, Marilyn J. Haring and Maurine A. Fry, 27:3 185–190

Effectiveness of multimedia in teaching descriptive geometry, Charles A. Rankowski and Minaruth Galey, 27:2 114–120

Effects of perceptual type and presentation mode in a visual location task, Joanne Brown Whitley and David M. Moore, 27:4 281–290

Effects of postquestions on learning and learning efficiency from fixed-pace, fixed-sequence media, Deane K. Dayton and Richard A. Schwier, 27:2 103–113

Effects of strategy-oriented training on children's inference drawing from pictures, Leslie C. Higgins, 27:4 265–280

Effects of three algorithmic representations on critical thinking, laboratory efficiency, and final grade, William C. Coscarelli and Thomas M. Schwen, 27:1 58–64

Effects of verbal shadowing on the recognition of visually presented verbal and nonverbal information, Gary W. Orwig, 27:1 25–30

Formative evaluation information from scripts, scratch tracks, and rough cuts: A comparison, John K. Burton and Frances M. Aversa, 27:3 191–194

Implications of multi-image for concept acquisition, David H. Jonassen, 27:4 291–302

Inhibitors to the application of technology, John S. Clayton, 27:2 157–163

The instructional message: A theoretical perspective, Patrick O. Marsh, 27:4 303–318

Interaction between attention directing and cognitive style, Anthony A. Greco and Chris McClung, 27:2 97–102

Investigation of several techniques for reviewing audio-tutorial instruction, Horace G. Smith, 27:3 195–204

Media and attitudes: A bibliography. Part 1—Articles published in AV Communication Review (1953–1977), Michael Simonson, Pamela Thies, and Geogeann Burch, 27:3 217–236

Media use among communication apprehensive education majors, Arni T. Dunathan and William G. Powers, 27:1 3–8

Picture preferences of children and young adults, Barbara Myatt and Juliet Mason Carter, 27:1 45–53

Pictures and children's story recall: Some questions of durability, Chao-Ying Peng and Joel R. Levin, 27:1 39–44

Pictures, imagery, and children's recall of central versus peripheral sentence information, Joel R. Levin, Bruce G. Bender, and Michael Pressley, 27:2 89–95

Stimulus as a random factor in analysis of variance: Increasing the generalizability of findings, Daniel W. King and Lynda A. King, 27:3 179–184

User assessment of media presentation rooms, G. F. McVey, 27:2 121–147
